

ABSTRACT

A fuel dispensing system that determines the identity of a customer and then provides the customer with certain types of discounted and/or free services based upon the identity of the customer.

10043697-010902